System Overview

Florida's community-based child welfare system is comprised of a partnership between the Department of Children and Families (DCF), other state agencies, the courts, law enforcement agencies, service providers, and local communities.

There are over four million children in Florida of which most fortunately do not come to the attention of the system. For those children who do enter the system, entry begins with reports of allegations of abuse or neglect made to the Florida Abuse Hotline, operated by DCF. The Florida Abuse Hotline receives more than 350,000 child-related calls annually. Calls received are screened to determine if the criteria are met to initiate a protective investigation.

If criteria are met, the report is referred to a local Child Protective Investigations (CPI). Statewide there are over 240,000 protective investigations conducted annually. These investigations are conducted by DCF in 60 counties. In the remaining 7 counties, including Broward, Hillsborough, Manatee, Pasco, Pinellas, Seminole, and Walton, county sheriff's offices perform the investigations. Investigators determine the need for post-investigation services, including protecting the child through removal and placement in out-of-home care or through case-managed, in-home services (by court order or non-judicially), or through informal voluntary family support services. For SFY 2018-2019, over 37,000 children were served in out-of-home care.

Florida statute requires that post-investigation services be provided through contracting with community-based care lead agencies (CBCs). There are 17 Community-Based Care (CBC) lead agencies that each provide coverage to specific geographic areas within the 20 Judicial Circuits in Florida. Several lead agencies cover more than one geographic area and areas may include one or multiple counties. In two instances, the CBC lead agency serves two geographic areas under separate contracts, lending to 19 lead agencies displayed within the CBC tables of this report. Although services vary among CBC lead agencies, they have a shared role in participating and ensuring safety, permanency, and well-being for all children in the state.

The monthly Child Welfare Key Indicators Report presents data for the Florida Abuse Hotline, Child Protective Investigations, CBC lead agencies, as well as other key metrics describing the state of the Florida Child Welfare System.

Recurrence of Hotline Reporting Trends

The following four measures look at all initial calls (no additional or supplemental) to the Hotline within a month and places them into a monthly cohort based on whether the first call received in the month was screened-in or screened-out. Subsequent initial calls to the Hotline within the following 12 months are captured as recurrence. These monthly screen-in and screen-out cohorts are tracked for recurrence of reporting by child (meaning the child appears again in a Hotline report within the following 12 months) and by perpetrator (meaning the perpetrator on the initial report appears as a perpetrator in another initial report within the following 12 months). The percentage of recurrence of reporting for these four groups are displayed at 3, 6, 9, and 12-month intervals.

Child Safety in Out-of-Home Care

This measure is generated by taking the total number of reports with at least one verified maltreatment and dividing it by the total number of days in foster care for all children, with the result multiplied by 100,000 to calculate the rate of victimization per 100,000 days in foster care. The data for this quarter shows only four lead agencies failed to meet the standard. Statewide performance has continued to improve over the past four quarters exceeding the national standard of 8.50 or less.

Education Program Enrollment

◉ Young Adults Aging Out Enrolled in Education Programs

This is one indicator of preparation for adulthood but does not control for any of the many variables that influence this preparation, including time in care and the child's educational level when entering care. Statewide performance in this measure has been relatively stable and above the statewide target for the past 3 years. Youth are only included in this measure if they age out at age 18, if a youth chooses to remain in Extended Foster Care, they are not included in either the numerator or the denominator for this measure. Because of this change, the denominator of youth in this measure has been steadily declining and several CBC Lead Agencies have no youth in the measure at all, as evidenced by the blank cells. This has also impacted the statewide performance with the dwindling number of youths included in the measure.

Missing Child

Average Number of Children Categorized as Missing from Care and Supervision

In April 2020 there was an increase in the average number and percentage of children categorized as missing from the care or supervision of the state. The average number of 200 children missing on any given day appears to be the current ceiling for this metric and the average total of 201.77 for April 2020 was just above that point.
